The mission, as described in the Bylaws, is:

AKMS aims to utilize modern management & technology to effectively develop Arab capabilities to derive social and economic value from an organization's knowledge resources.

The key challenges in effective implementation of knowledge management solutions in the Arab world are social and cultural in nature. Technical issues are important but the key drivers in knowledge management are related to upper management initiative and corporate and social culture in the organization and society at large.

Knowledge Management is aimed relatively specifically at the ability of an organization to efficiently harness the tacit and explicit knowledge in its organization for economic benefit. AKMS aims not only to disseminate information useful to this pursuit, but more broadly to seek the development of the Arab 'Knowledge Society' at large.
